

ChildrenFlow, in partnership with the Child Development Training Consortium, is happy to invite you to the following interactive online training:

Trauma-informed strategies to support Multi-Language Learners (MLLs) in healing from traumatic experiences.

What is this training about?

During this training, faculty will learn in-depth strategies to support their students with social and emotional strategies with MLLs and how to collaborate with their families.

Learning objectives of this training include the following:

- The different types of trauma
 - Strategies to support emotional support to MLLs
- How trauma affects children’s behavior
 - Deepen collaborations with MLLs families that have been through trauma

Upon completion of the training and evaluation survey, participants will receive a complimentary book and a digital handout of the training.

When will this training take place?
